The ancient town of Wuzhen in Tongxiang, Zhejiang province, hosts the Fifth World Internet Conference, which focuses on the world’s most recent Internet development trends and cutting-edge technologies. It draws the latest Internet technologies, achievements, products and applications of more than 430 enterprises and institutions from home and abroad.

CHEN YEHUA / XINHUA

Guests attend the plenary session of the Fifth World Internet Conference in Wuzhen, Zhejiang province, on Wednesday.

ZOU HONG / CHINA DAILY

People visit the Light of Internet Expo of the Fifth World Internet Conference in Wuzhen.

ZHU XINGXIN / CHINA DAILY

Volunteers of the Fifth World Internet Conference in Wuzhen pose for pictures in the scenic water town.

CAI YANG / XINHUA

A customer visits a photo exhibition that shows how the Internet has changed ordinary people’s lives in Wuzhen.

HUANG ZONGZHI / XINHUA

A visitor plays with a 5G robot at the Light of Internet Expo of the Fifth World Internet Conference in Wuzhen.

ZHU XINGXIN / CHINA DAILY

An exhibitor shows an electric bike-sharing system at the Light of Internet Expo of the Fifth World Internet Conference in Wuzhen.

XU YU / XINHUA

Staff members dressed as cartoon characters interact with visitors at the Light of Internet Expo of the Fifth World Internet Conference in Wuzhen.

ZHU XINGXIN / CHINA DAILY

A customer checks in to the Binzhi AI Hotel by swiping her identity card and undergoing a facial recognition scan.

HUANG ZONGZHI / XINHUA

A guest checks in to the Binzhi AI Hotel by swiping her identity card and undergoing a facial recognition scan.

HUANG ZONGZHI / XINHUA

A virtual world becomes reality

Visitors get a closer look of the latest technological trends.